WHO'S WHO IN '39

WE, the class of '39, do not claim to be able to set the world on fire, but we have done a few things that we think should be brought before the eyes of the public.

In Sam Sixbey we have Shakespeare's literary ability; in Elizabeth Litchfield Cicero's mastery of oratory; in Virginia Kerr, Virgil's poetic insight; in Robert Scofield, an Olympic contestant's skill; and in Paul Barrett, Orson Welles' startling dramatic achievements.

Our athletes of Olympic renown have gained the laurels for Intramurals for two successive years. Our fiery orators have placed the seniors far superior to other classes. No stately ball, given in the court of Louis the XIV, could have superseded the magnificence of our Junior Prom. No first nighter in Hollywood could have compared with the success of our play.

In short, we, the seniors, have made a name for ourselves in history. Would it be considered too bold to truthfully say that in the future, we believe that history classes all over our country will study about us in their textbooks?

—KATHERINE BLOOMER.

SENIOR CLASS SONG

(Tune to Anchors Away)

School Days are at an end
 School Days are o'er,
 We say, "Au Revoir",
 To our teachers and our friends.
 Our tasks in school are done,
 We've had our fun,
 Life's battles just begun,
 And we'll face our problems one by one.

We thank you for your help,
 And may we rise.
 We're sad to say our good-byes,
 But our time is over now.
 We bid you fond farewell
 To journey on,
 To conquer trials o'er yon,
 So we'll carry on, we'll carry on.

GLEE CLUB

JUNIOR GLEE CLUB

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

THE Glee Club is composed of fifty four high school students under the direction of Miss Goth. At the beginning of the year officers were elected. Virginia Carlson was chosen president; Lois Scheller, librarian; and Ella Laird, treasurer. The girls worked out some numbers which they gave in assembly. Their social life consisted of a Halloween party which every one enjoyed. The Glee Club prepared two numbers to give at the Music Festival in Fredonia, April 25. They were, "Lo, A Voice to Heaven Sounding" by Bartmansky, and "The Nightingale" by Frederick Von Flotow.

A group of 30 musicians from the grades and high school met each week for student and band instruction under the direction of Albert DeGroat. At the beginning of the year the following were appointed officers of the band: Student Director, Elizabeth Litchfield; secretary, Phyllis Cook; librarians, Elaine Smathers and Amelia Kiesewetter. Mr. De Groat was in Mayville only one day a week this year and there was not the time to develop a band suitable for giving concerts. Therefore, he spent the time building a foundation for a bigger and better band next year. But in spite of their inexperience as band players, every member enjoyed the time spent Thursday on music lessons. With the excellent foundation built this year and with continued student enthusiasm, we are looking forward to a first-class band in the future.

A Junior Glee Club was successfully organized this year. It consists of thirty-four pupils selected from the sixth, seventh, and eighth grades. As a result of two nights' practice every week they have become quite proficient at three-part singing. We hope that they may continue their splendid progress.

The orchestra was organized this year for the sole purpose of playing for enjoyment. The members have played for several entertainments and have been judged by the people to be one of the best Mayville School orchestras in many years.

SYNOPSIS

ACT 1

Dr. Bancroft, a doctor of six months, receives word that his fiancée will arrive that afternoon. To impress her, he hires patients to be treated. When she sees all of them, she is so thrilled that she agrees to an immediate wedding.

ACT 2

After the wedding, appears the mystery of the two cupboards, in which are involved a dog and baby. A misunderstanding causes Chloe to phone the police who take Dr. Bancroft to jail.

ACT 3

A planned robbery turns out to be unplanned. After much excitement, the robber is revealed. The baby is found and returned to its parents. Dr. Bancroft is cleared, the mystery is unraveled, and the reconciliation of the bride and groom closes the play.

The play was under the direction of Mr. Lydia Rider and Miss Valeria Mattriski.

LIBRARY CLUB

Twelve high school girls under the direction of Miss White with Elizabeth Litchfield, president, and Rae Bixby, secretary, constitute the organization which helps maintain our high school library. Early in the year they presented an assembly program, dramatizing some of the better known books. The school received some new books in January which were shelved, numbered, and prepared for use by the girls. Attractive posters reviewing these books were placed on the bulletin board, thus acquainting the student body with them. One girl each day told stories to the first, second, and third grades.

The club also learned the correct arrangement of the books on the shelves and each night it was the duty of one girl to see that the shelves were clean and the books properly arranged. Each girl had a period during the day when she took charge of the library, her duties being to check the books in or out and see that the library was used properly.

HI-Y CLUB

The Hi-Y Club of Mayville Central School is primarily an organization for male students who wish to promote a general program of Christian brotherhood. The organization is a branch of the County, State, and National Y.M.C.A. under the insignia of the Hi-Y.

This year President Chester Weise organized the club into efficient committees which were responsible for the various duties of the group and acted independently of the body. The organization felt that this lode-distribution method of administration was especially efficient and practicable. Membership is open to all male students in High School on application to the executive committee. Entrance into membership is accompanied by an informal initiation of a hazing nature. In these events members of the club are not found lacking in social eminence. Clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship, clean living, and contagious Christian character are the by-words of the organization.

ORATORICAL CONTEST

THE American Legion oratorical contest was held in the study hall Tuesday evening, March 28, 1939. The judges unanimously named Elizabeth Litchfield the best orator of Mayville Central School. She spoke on "The Attitude of American Youth Toward War". Second choice was Samuel Sixbey, who spoke on "America of 1960: What is Our Responsibility Today". Third place was given to Katherine Bloomer, who spoke on "The Menace of Lawlessness in the United States". Others who participated were Rita Page, Clyde Hart, Virginia Kerr and Sateev Hart. The selection was based on selection and arrangement of material, originality and presentation. As winner, Elizabeth was the representative of Mayville Central School in the county contest, May 4, at Lakewood.

HALLOWE'EN SOCIAL

THE Halloween Social, sponsored this year by the Senior Class, was attended by the largest crowd in the history of the event. As usual, many came masked. The festivities of the evening began with the grand march in which all those who were in costume participated. A prize was awarded to Clair Dahlin for the most appropriate costume; to Neil Francis for the funniest; and to Jack Carlson for the prettiest. After the march everyone unmasked and was entertained by the varied program that follows:

Solo, Dale Near; Tap Dance, Juline and Lenore Kinder; Reading, Mrs. Hanselman, Reading, Autumn Sliter; Saxophone Solo, Roger Fleming; Playlette, Senior Class, Solo, Arnella Gould; Vocal Duet, Jean Stanford and Robert Brace, Solo, Virginia Kerr; Recitation, Nancy Litchfield; Vocal Duet, Elaine Smathers and Shirley Meade.

At the conclusion of the program, those who desired could dance until 12 o'clock. A very welcome addition to the social were the square dances which were offered in addition to the usual round dances. Many people enjoyed the fishing at the fish pond, while others disposed of their money at the hot dog, candy, ice cream, and cider stands. Altogether this was one of the most successful Halloween socials to be held at Mayville in many years.

Back Row—G. Busch, H. Vere, Advisor; G. Matthews, S. Sixbey, W. Renner, R. Mead.
Front Row—Miss Annalett, Miss White, Miss Leonard, Mary McConnell, Lloleta Burt

CAMERA CLUB

THIS year marked the beginning of a new organization in Mayville Central School, the Camera Club. This club was successfully started at the beginning of the year with eight members and four of the faculty as advisors. Sam Sixbey was elected president; George Matthews, vice-president and treasurer; and Mary McConnell, secretary. Meetings were held weekly after school at which time ways to take better pictures were discussed and plans were made for future activities. Evening meetings were held twice a month at which demonstrations were given and pictures were developed and printed. The chemicals for this process were mixed by the boys under the direction of the science teacher. At one meeting Mr. Camanan of Jamestown gave an illustrated demonstration of the correct procedure of taking portraits and at later meetings Mr. Wm. Friedrich of Rochester enlightened us on the rudiments of good photography.

JOKES

GOT HER ATTENTION

"Fore!" shouted the golfer, but the lady on the fairway paid no attention to his call.

"Fore!" he repeated, but still she gave no heed.

"Try three ninety-eight," suggested the caddy, "maybe she's a bargain hunter."

E. Cross—"Which would you prefer in your future husband, wealth, ability, or appearance?"

H. Geertson "Appearance, my dear, and he'd better appear pretty soon!"

Tourist—Son, can you direct me to the bank?

Dick B.—Certainly, for a quarter.

Tourist—Isn't that mighty big pay?

Dick B.—No, mister, not for a bank director!

BURYING 'EM ALIVE

The following notice was posted by the parish clerk in a small town in England:

"This is to give notice that no person is to be buried in the churchyard save those living in the parish. Those who wish to be buried are desired to apply to the clerk of the parish in person."

It was in a cheap vaudeville house. An oriental dancing act had just been concluded and incense filled the theatre.

"Usher," complained a man who had just been shown to an aisle seat, "I smell punk."

"That's all right," whispered the usher, confidentially, "just sit where you are and I won't put anyone near you."

Mose and Bill are having quite a feud. They're both seeing Red!

We are wondering if Miss Goth enjoyed going through Westfield on the way to the Fredonia Festival.

Varsity Basketball Team

The Reserve Squad

NOTES FROM THE SCOREBOOK

THE 1938-39 basketball season started off under the leadership of Coach Meyers for his second year at Mayville.

The team met Sherman at home to begin the season and whipped them 24-11. The standing of the teams in the league was uncertain most of the season. Mayville was in first place some of the time and some of the time the old rival, Chautauqua, was in the first place. Near the end of the season, Mayville and Chautauqua were tied for the first position. Mayville had one game left to play while Chautauqua had finished. Celoron defeated the boys 21-16, taking the play-off chance away from them.

The team was handicapped throughout the latter part of the season because of the loss of the gym. They had to travel to Sherman to practice.

The boys who made the varsity were: Robert Scofield (Captain), guard; Leonard Dudley, guard; Donald Kling, center; Paul Webb, forward; Chester Weise, forward; Vernon Henderson, guard; William Habicht, guard; Robert Mount, center; Robert Brace, forward; Robert Clute, forward.

The boys' second team of the Mayville Central School started its season of fifteen games with a victory over Sherman to the score of 34-14. Consisting almost entirely of Freshman boys, this team, playing its first year of varsity basketball, encountered in most of its opponents players of more experience, and of better caliber in general.

The team slowed down considerably after the start of the season, but despite all handicaps made a favorable impression. In a year or two this team should go far in carrying the basketball banner for Mayville Central School:

William Cross, center; Norman Morton, forward; Donald Mayer, forward; Walter Sargent, guard; Ronald Morton, guard; Emmett Franklin, forward, and Dick Mead, forward, carried most of the assignments and were given able support by Raymond Morse, Tom Mahoney and Walter Acker.

April 17 was the first call for baseball this year. Despite the cold weather seven men reported. Out of the seventeen players only four lettermen returned; namely, Scofield, Webb, Brace, and Henderson. Although it took the team quite a while to get started they are at present immensely improved. The first five games they played, in their Home-and-Home Series, were with Silver Creek, Celoron, Ripley, Bracton and Chautauqua. The lineup was as follows: Mayer, N. Morton, Henderson, Scofield, Cross, Webb, Brace, Mead, Sargent, Fleming, Mount, Franklin, Fuller, W. Sargent and Dahlin.

INTRA-MURALS

A NEW system in sports was introduced this year into Mayville Central School.

In the fall twelve students were chosen from the Senior class for the purpose of grouping the students of the high school into two teams only, the Blue team and the other, the Gold team. The following students chose the members for the Blue team: Norma Burke, Elizabeth Cross, Rita Page, Robert Braae, Robert Clute and Philip Loomis. The Gold team was picked by: Maxine Francis, Jean Stanford, Elizabeth Latchfield, Elroy Chipman, Robert Scofield, and Paul Barrett.

The Intra-Murals are based not only on sports but also on the all-around activities of a person. In this way each student, though he may not be athletically inclined, can contribute to his side. Captains were elected to head the various sports. They chose the members for their teams. The scores of the games were recorded on a Blue and Gold chart in Mr. Meyer's office. A person was given fifteen points for participating in a game. If his side won he was given a total of sixty points. At the end of the year the individual having the highest score was to be given a trophy. Our Intra-Mural system was not completed this year due to the tearing down of the old gym.

The whole set-up in Intra-Murals includes:

Physical Exams, Attendance, Scholarships.

Clubs—Glee Club, Cheer leaders, Hi-Y, Senior play, Band Orchestra, Oratorical Contest, Library Club.

Sports—Badminton, Cage Ball, Swedish Handball, Paddle Tennis, Kick Ball, Football, Softball, Horseshoes, Relay Race, Tennis, Tether Ball, Washers, Basketball, Ping Pong, Jack Stones, Ring Toss, Shuffleboard, Checkers, Foul Shooting, Track, Speed Ball, Mumble Peg.
